

MARCH 17 GENERAL MEETING

Living on a Dollar a Day Keynote Speaker: Thomas Nazario

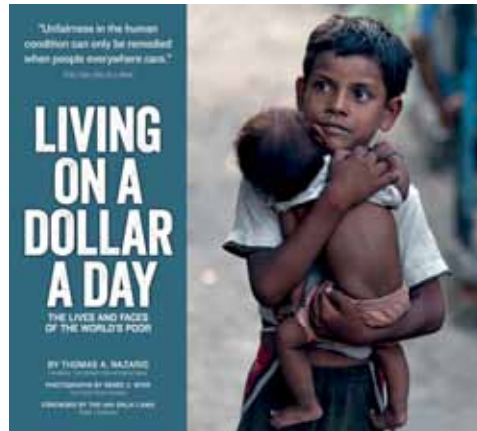

SOCIAL TIME: 9 am

BUSINESS MEETING: 9:30 ~ Announcement of Distinguished Woman and Election of Executive Board for 2015-16

PROGRAM: 9:45 - 11:30

A picture is worth a thousand words, especially when trying to describe a challenging subject like crushing poverty. How do you do this without making readers utterly depressed or even worse, disrespecting the subjects of your photography?

Thomas A. Nazario is the founder and president of The Forgotten International, who teamed up with Pulitzer Prize winning photojournalist Renée C. Byer in creating a book Living on a Dollar a Day. In making this beautiful and moving book a team traveled to four continents, took thousands of photographs, conducted numerous interviews, and researched information on the agencies around the world that strive to help the destitute. The resulting stories and photographs offer a heartrending glimpse into the everyday realities of individuals and families facing extreme poverty. Personal profiles give voice to their experience, and research about the root causes of global poverty is shared along with information on how those in more fortunate circumstances can get involved.

Don't miss the chance to see the vivid images, ask probing questions and purchase your own signed copy of the book.

She is a branch member who has demonstrated leadership, creativity, and dedication to our AAUW mission. Do you know who she is? Come to the March meeting and celebrate this remarkable lady.

Tech Trek and Scholarship Awards Meeting
SUNDAY, APRIL 19
at 3 pm

Tips from Space – for Teens

MJ Marggraff, keynote speaker for OML's Award Ceremony of 2015, will share her work and stories of what makes the 'New Right Stuff' from her world of aviation, sub-orbital space flight preparation, and from recent interviews of astronauts from the International Space Station (ISS). MJ is a commercial pilot, flight instructor and has several roles in mission support for space managers of Virgin Galactic. "I am vitally interested in ways risk and fear can work to our advantage to dream and explore." She will talk about the 'Right Stuff' needed today to make astronauts on the ISS successful and how it is similar to what aviators and even those who work in STEM fields on earth need to do their jobs. MJ is currently working on what it will take to make long-term space flights a success.

This afternoon meeting will also honor the OML Branch annual Tech Trek and Scholarship winners. Six 7th grade girls will be awarded Tech Trek scholarships to the Grace Hopper Camp at Stanford University. Four scholarship winners, chosen from local high schools and St. Mary's College, will also be honored.

All meetings of the OML Branch, unless otherwise noted, are held at the HOLY TRINITY SERBIAN CHURCH CULTURAL CENTER
1700 School St., Moraga
Handicapped Accessible

PIPINGS from the PRESIDENTGreeting One & All!

My thanks to Maria Roden, new owner of Orinda Books, for a lovely talk on how she got started as a bookseller. A rather round about journey to be sure! She was absolutely delightful to listen to and to chat with later. I hope that you will patronize her shop, as she is one of our newest branch members!

Commercial Interruption Time: 3/15, Sister-2-Sister Get-together, the third of three, a new format, at Orinda Community Church. Can you help? Call Valarie Burgess if you can. 3/17, A don't miss General Meeting regarding surviving on the International Stage on $1 a day. 5/16, Tech Trek's Shred Fest, being held at the 5A Rents in Rheem from 9-1. $5 per file box! Wow! What a deal! See you there.

AAUW National Convention, June 18-21, Sheraton Hotel and Marina, San Diego, CA. Gail Chesler is attending as our new incoming President. She'd love to have you join her!

Tech Trek is getting ready to interview and choose their 6 "trekkers" for camp, and I've been following the email trail of the Scholarship Committee, who are poring over applications and interviewing many deserving candidates as well. Can't wait to meet all of the winners at the April 19th General Meeting. I'm always so awed by these young ladies!

Thank you, All, for being a part of this worthwhile organization. Together we do great things!

Best Regards, Karen Mankowski

FOCUS ON ... BURCKHALTER and OUR AMAZING VOLUNTEERS

In the library: Alison MacKenzie, new to the library this year, enthusiastically reports, "I am amazed at the educational content that we volunteers bring to the library program. I work with a Special Ed class and we do a different letter in the alphabet each week. Next week the letter is "S" and the book I read to the children will be "Split, Splat." We also will use a video song, which we downloaded, and also books we selected about "S" words: spiders, snakes, the sun, and more. With the first grade class I work with, after listening to some of Aesop's fables, the students were led to discover the 'moral' of the story. That was a very popular lesson." Alison continued, "I was not a teacher. I was a lawyer but I like teaching and that's what I am doing, only instead of the classroom, it is in the library, and I find it to be a really rewarding volunteer job."

During Black History Month, the volunteers created eye-catching displays of appropriate books and read excerpts from biographies of not-so-well-known figures, such as May Jemison and Medger Evans, as well as the more famous ones. The ever resourceful (and fun) Pat Beckner did a wonderful presentation of Condoleezza Rice to a responsive 4/5 class. Pat has also created a video, which focuses on sight-word recognition. "We love to teach children to read," Pat says, "but showing them the joy of reading is even more exciting."

In their 'spare' time, volunteers weed out old, unused books and replace them with bright new ones, more likely to grab a student's attention. The library is always a busy place, often behind the scenes, as well as when interacting with students. This year we have 10 OML volunteers and the library is open three days a week! For an all-volunteer library, Burckhalter is truly amazing!

In the classroom: Carrol Foxall who has been a tutor at Burckhalter for 17 years, is working with five third graders this year. "The new Common Core curriculum is challenging," she reports, "and while I see my students improve their reading skills and increasing their vocabulary, the real challenge is to take information and reach a valid conclusion. As I have each year, I am enjoying helping my students reach their goals."

K. de Groot, a 20-year veteran of our Burchhalter Project, loves to work with challenging students! She writes, "I had a 'breakthrough' with a very difficult and reluctant first grader last week. From not being in the least interested or attentive in the weeks before, when I presented him with some new books and approached him in a different way and tried to make it fun for him, he really got into it and was actually laughing! In previous sessions I barely got a word from him! As we were leaving the tutor room, he asked, 'Are you coming back tomorrow?' I almost fell down the stairs!" she said. "'You can go first next week,' I promised, and he gave me a big smile. That was a happy day for me! That's why I come back year after year."

Jan Coe (photo at right, with Vanessa Crews), who is back for her 16th year as a tutor, is eagerly looking forward to doing her gingerbread project with her first grade class next week. This always popular activity ends with a colorful picture book and descriptions of their houses in the children's own words. Jan publishes the book online and gives copies to the teacher and the library. Jan also shared an article in the

New York Times about how important to young learners it is to have one on one tutoring. The personal & caring attention a child receives helps him/her to learn more effectively and to develop confidence and self esteem. We have six tutors in the classrooms this year.

Yes! Our OML volunteers do amazing work!

GOOD TIMES – GOOD MUSIC and ENCOURAGING YOUNG WOMEN!

Over 40 members and guests sang their hearts out for good cause—raising $850 for scholarships benefiting young women attending our local high schools and St. Mary’s College at the February Valentine Day Party.

Marla Schroeder (photo at right) opened her beautiful home so we could enjoy singing along with pianist Gail Burnett and her friend, flautist Sara Newell (photo, lower right). “Oh What a Beautiful Morning” and “Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head” were just two of the songs we sang. Gail and guests shared information about the songs and composers.

Cayo Marschner & Lynda Leonard enjoy a donated boutique item

Committee members created a delicious dessert buffet. Our special thanks go to Vanessa Crews, Barbara Harbuck and Gail Burnett for donating our raffle prizes. Lynda Leonard chose and displayed items from our “boutique.”

Thank you to all who participated in our afternoon “sing a long.” We wish to thank our committee members who joined together to plan this delightful afternoon.

FEBRUARY MEETING WRAP-UP

Maria Roden, new owner of the Orinda Books, (photo at left) was a lively and interesting speaker at our February meeting. With so many book lovers in our group many thoughtful questions were posed and equally thoughtfully answered. Our introductory table activity was appropriately centered on books, more specifically around literary heroines. We talked about our favorite childhood books and what were the most interesting and appealing characteristics of the heroines.

As a special thank you, Ms. Roden was given a membership to our group. She has decided to donate her $100 speaker’s honorarium to the nonprofit she supports through her bookstore Reach Out and Read, where pediatricians’ offices give out baby books to underprivileged new mothers so they can start reading to their babies.

If you have not seen the newly remodeled bookstore yet, do make a point of stopping there. Orinda Books also hosts our branch’s book group each month on the third Friday at 10 am. Check the back page for more information.

Maryellen Judson sings praises of the Valentine Fundraising Party, which raised over $800 for local scholarships.

The What??!

A Very Special Thanks to Our Hospitality Committee!

Janet Thibault (photo at right) arranges the flowers for the refreshment table. She does a wonderful job for each meeting.

I think it is important we recognize the great job they are doing for us at each general meeting. Thanks!!

Heidi also wishes to participate in many of the interest groups including international travel, computer help, program planning and bridge.

On another topic - It's tax time again! For members who itemize their tax deductions, don't forget that $46 out of the $89 annual dues we pay to AAUW is deductible. AAUW is recognized as an IRC 501(c) 3 charity because of its work on behalf of women and girls, so a major part of the National dues amount is deductible. Optional additional donations to AAUW funds are fully deductible, and greatly enhance the mission of AAUW.

International Women's Day will be celebrated worldwide on March 8 in honor of working women and women's struggles everywhere. It should be a real source of pride and inspiration to American women that this special day originated in honor of two all-women strikes in the U.S.

Start Smart Elena Noble Facilitator

The news is very good for those interested in helping women learn about the Wage Gap, and Equal Pay for Equal Work. Thanks to our nine member IBC Council, we will be presenting our first Start Smart Class at Diablo Valley College.

The class will be presented in the Business and Foreign Language Community Conference Room Thursday, April 23rd, from 1:00-4:00pm.

Catherine Franco, Career Counselor at DVC, has been instrumental in helping us bring this workshop to The Contra Costa Community College District.

The event will highlight New York University Professor Linda Gordon, author of Dorothea Lange: A Life beyond the Limits. This book won the Prestigious Bancroft Prize in 2010.

Becoming a community partner with our local schools and universities has been the corner stone of AAUW involvement in education

Many thanks to all the branch members who made this possible. We hope to see some of you at these events.
