... from DENISE'S PERSPECTIVE

March is Women's History Month. It is a time to reflect on the advances we've made in achieving equity for women, to acknowledge how far we still have to go, and to take action to move us forward.

While we all have our own personal stories to tell about the women in our families, I was inspired by the strength, wisdom and stories of my grandmothers. Both lost their mothers in childbirth. Because they were girls, they went to school only through eighth grade, and could not inherit family property. In their lifetimes, they witnessed tremendous strides in equity for women. This includes the right to vote, seeing their daughters finish high school and get decent paying union jobs with benefits, as well as watching their granddaughter graduate from college and get a job in management. Now our daughters live in a world of opportunities with fewer limits. So we have made great strides – thanks to the women who have come before us and paved the way.

We still have work to do to achieve equity. We are hopeful that Congress will pass the Paycheck Fairness Act, introduced on January 30, 2019. We are hopeful that the #metoo movement will improve the lives of our girls in schools and women at work so they don't have to be worried about and affected by sexual harassment. We are excited about AAUW National's goal of training 10 million women in negotiating salaries by 2022 through the Start Smart and Work Start programs. Please read AAUW's Strategic Plan. (It is on the bottom of the AAUW National home page and a link is on our website.) The goals are high, but if every one of our 170,000 members works toward the achievement of these goals, we will succeed. Women's issues are in the spotlight right now more than ever. Now is the time to act.

I am asking each member to personally take at least one more action in March. Many of you are busy volunteering this month either for the March 23 STEAM Conference, selecting our Tech Trek or Scholarship recipients, or volunteering at Burckhalter. Thank you. Your work does make a difference. More volunteers are always needed. And I challenge you to do the following:

1. If you have signed up for the Two-Minute Activist, please click on the links and send those letters to our Congresspersons. If you haven't signed up, go to the AAUW National website, go to "What we do" and "Take Action". <https://www.aauw.org/what-we-do/public-policy/two-minute-activist/#.XHIDRcNEZKY.email>
2. Take the AAUW Salary Workshop online. AAUW wants all members to know what the workshop is and the best way to do that is to take it ourselves. Then tell our daughters, nieces, granddaughters, neighbors and friends to go to AAUW's website to take the workshop online. National knows that to meet the goal of training 10 million women in three years on how to negotiate salaries, many will have to take the workshop online. Go to the AAUW National website, click on "Events" at the top and scroll down to Salary Workshops. <https://salary.aauw.org>.

I am looking forward to our guest speaker, Audrey Goins Cormier, at the March 19 meeting. We will also announce the slate of officers and our Distinguished Woman for 2019 at that meeting. See you then.

Denise Burian, President

FEBRUARY 12, 2019
BOARD MEETING
HIGHLIGHTS

It goes by in a flash – from New Year's resolutions to the realization phase of our board's planning. A recap of our February Board Meeting reveals that our branch is in good shape financially, that the New Member Coffee at Carrol Foxall's was a success, that several branch members attended the third annual Women's March, and that our current Distinguished Woman, Maryellen Judson, has been accumulating recommendations for her replacement. Be sure to attend the March General Meeting to discover who our new Distinguished Woman will be, and to vote on the superb slate of new officers for next year. Yes – it is that time already! Extra kudos to our hardworking nominating committee. Also, our AAUW Fund Co-Chairs have selected our Branch Gift Honoree, but you will have to wait until the May Luncheon for that announcement.

On the other side of the house, the STEM Conference – now STEAM, with the addition of several art workshops – is about to burst on the scene. Training day is March 16, and the conference follows on March 23. Many members are involved in making this huge event a success. Meanwhile, nominations for Tech Trek campers have been received from local middle schools, and interviews will be occurring in early March. Scholarship is also in the "receiving applications" mode, with their interviews right around the corner too. The second annual Game Day fundraiser for Scholarship is scheduled for November 14. You can practice up with the new game interest group. Check the calendar for dates.

MEET MORE STEAM AMBASSADORS

I am Dara Kazmierowski and I am a senior at Miramonte High School. This is my first year as an ambassador and second year as a volunteer at the STEAM conference. I have always enjoyed science and math, but attending Tech Trek in 2014 allowed me to explore those areas more. I am an ambassador for the STEAM conference this year not only to give back to the AAUW for my experiences at Tech Trek, but because I want other young women to be inspired to pursue science and math courses. I want these young women to dive into hands-on, exciting STEAM courses the way I have done since Tech Trek. This year, my desire to challenge myself in the math and science fields, inspired by programs put on by the local AAUW, have led me to take physiology, where I am dissecting a cat, and AP Computer Science Principles, where I am learning basic coding in the coding language Python. These are courses that push me to engage with science and math in a way I have never experienced before. I believe all young women should have experiences like these. I believe the STEAM Conference can help them get there!

My name is Sophia Scipi and I am a senior at Acalanes High School. This will be my fourth year working with AAUW and my third year being an ambassador for the AAUW STEAM conference. When I first became an ambassador my sophomore year, I was shocked to see the impact the conference had on middle school girls. They were so excited to get to attend the different workshops. Now, as the conference has expanded to the arts making it STEAM, I couldn't be more grateful to experience another year of the conference process. From being a part of AAUW, I have learned to take on responsibilities and fulfill important duties. Most importantly, the program has inspired me to follow a new path at school by taking classes ranging in the STEAM branch. After planning this conference for a few months now, I can say that this is going to be our best one yet, and I can't wait to see the impact it has on a new round of middle school girls.

TECH TREK NEWS

We Will Send Seven Girls to Tech Trek This Summer!

The camp director just informed us that we will be able to send seven girls to Camp Hopper this July. The number depends on the dorm space assigned to the camp by Stanford.

Meanwhile, the applications are rolling in from the girls nominated by their math, science and computer teachers. Interviews will be held in early March. Thanks to all the volunteers who will be interviewing and selecting the best candidates!

SCHOLARSHIP NEWS

Scholarship Fundraising Tried & True Tutoring

Tried and True Tutoring presents SAT and ACT preparation in an effective and streamlined manner. They offer Mock SAT/ ACT test sessions during which the student takes a full-length SAT/ACT exam. At a Results Night for students and parents, the student receives a report of his/her results as well as insights to the application process. A four-week SAT/ ACT Prep Course and a two-day, weekend SAT/ ACT Boot Camp are also offered to students. The students are taught techniques and they learn the material that will be covered on the tests.

The Scholarship Committee has been working with Tried and True Tutoring for three years. Bonnie Fend leads this fundraising part of our committee. She communicates among Tried and True Tutoring, Acalanes School District and our three local public high schools to schedule programs. She also tracks the income we receive for organizing the programs. Bonnie and Maryellen Judson make sure the rooms are set up and tutors are in place. They assist the Tried and True Tutor, provide snacks on test days, and make sure the programs are up and running. They also check that all is in order when the classes end. Scholarship committee members Rachel Riddle and Jill Eberhard add extra hands when needed. Bonnie and Maryellen deserve special recognition for making this possible.

Our AAUW Scholarship Program receives twenty dollars per student for a mock SAT/ACT and a percentage of the student fees for the prep course and boot camp. The Scholarship Committee has received $3,500 so far this school year from the Tried and True Tutoring Program. More sessions are planned for the Spring semester.

These funds, our Branch Scholarship Fundraiser – Game Day (Save the Date– November 14, 2019), and member donations make it possible for us to offer meaningful scholarships to young women in our community.

AAUW FUND

The Fund and AAUW's Mission

Every October we attend a luncheon honoring the new class of AAUW's Grants and Fellowships recipients. They are the ones we associate with AAUW Fund; they stand before us – flesh and blood – the faces of our future. It's easy to forget that the Fund does much, much more: It funds our Mission.

The Fund supports our strategies: Education and Training, Economic Security and Leadership and all of the nine programs that those tools turn into action. It's an impressive package that includes research, campus initiatives, STEM education, public policy, legal case support, educational funding, global connections, member leadership and salary negotiation.

AAUW recently renamed "AAUW Fund (9110)," and it is now called "AAUW Greatest Needs Fund (9110)." ("AAUW Fund" – without "(9110)" is now the name of the umbrella category that covers all of the funds.) This new name – Greatest Needs – reflects the need for unrestricted funds, and donors are encouraged to specify this fund.

The Greatest Needs Fund allows AAUW the flexibility to respond rapidly to new and emerging challenges facing women and children and to utilize the gift where it's most needed. This fund ensures the strength, relevance and viability of AAUW now and into the future.

Co-VP, AAUW Fund

NOTES from the JANUARY 2019 IBC MEETING

The Contra Costa County AAUW Interbranch Council (IBC) meets four times a year and is an opportunity for all of the AAUW branches in the county to meet and share ideas and experiences. Normally, Denise and either Marielle or myself attend these meetings, however, any branch member who wants to attend is welcome. The next meeting is Tuesday, March 26, from 7 to 9 pm, at Atria Senior Living, third floor, 1545 Pleasant Hill Road, Lafayette.

At the January meeting, leadership training was discussed. In the past, the State AAUW has sponsored leadership and/or training for specific board positions, such as membership. Because this hasn't been done since April 2017, IBC will be contacting AAUW-CA to see if training can be set up in the fall, hopefully for new officers. This will be an agenda item at the March IBC meeting.

One of the most important reasons for the IBC is for branches to get good ideas from each other, specifically about fundraising, membership and how to get people to volunteer for branch leadership positions. At the January meeting, several branches shared their 2018 major fundraising experiences:

- The Vallejo/Benecia Branch held a Bunco night and raised $2,000.
- The Contra Costa Delta Branch, with a total branch membership of only 19 members, worked every day from Black Friday to Christmas Eve wrapping gifts at an Antioch mall and raised $8,400. (Whew!)
- The Concord Branch hosts an Art, Wine and Beer event (which will be May 11 this year) and raised an impressive $13,000 last year at an event lasting just 3 hours. This event is sponsored by both the City of Concord and the merchants at Todo de Santos Plaza, with all the food, wine and beer donated by 21 participating merchants.
- Alamo/Danville did not put on their successful holiday home tour in 2018. Although they are a large branch with 280 members, they had difficulty getting enough members to volunteer as docents, as with an aging membership they have fewer members who can stand for four hours! Perhaps this event could be shared with another branch, such as ours?

There was an interesting idea about how to do the AAUW Fund meeting. Most people agree that the best speaker for the meeting about AAUW Fund, is a fund recipient (a fellow), as that makes it clear to potential donors how their donation works. Branches are only allowed to have a current fellow every other year. However, if there are fellows, past fellows or other recipients available, branches may request visits in their off years. Such requests will be considered after all eligible branch requests have been filled. Concord branch and Pleasant Hill branch get around this restriction by having a combined meeting each year, thus always being eligible to have a fellow as a speaker as the branches take turns getting a fund recipient. The combined meeting is in the evening, making it easier to get a good speaker, and it is a salad and dessert pot luck. Gets good attendance and sounds like fun!

MEMBERSHIP

March is a busy month for our OML Branch. Our STEAM committee has been busy preparing for the STEAM conference we sponsor in conjunction with Saint Mary's College. They have arranged for workshops, presenters, lunches, safety plans, and even traffic controls for the big day. Many of our members will be up early on Saturday, March 23. They have volunteered their day to see that everything goes off as planned!

Other members will be interviewing seventh grade girls who are candidates for Tech Trek. They will choose one girl from each middle school to attend this science camp at Stanford this summer. This is a difficult job as Lamorinda has so many talented young ladies. We will meet them at our April meeting.

Just as we support girls' and women's rights and education locally, AAUW on the national level supports our adult interests. Our national new book club, called Operation Equity: Reading for Results, merges AAUW members' love of reading with easy action-oriented projects to advance gender equity. Every quarter, they focus on a different aspect of AAUW's strategic plan. Use the books and articles suggested to start a conversation and then pick a related project that will make a difference in the lives of women and girls.

A couple of ideas at the close of Black History Month: Black Women in the U.S. Economy: The Hardest Working Woman or Unequal: How America's Courts Undermine Discrimination Law. Choose one of the current books such as Becoming for Women's History Month in March.

DAYTIME GAME GROUPFriday, March 8 ~ 1:30-4 pm

Home of Mary Leigh Miller, 602 Rheem Blvd, Moraga

RSVP: mlmiller602@gmail.com

The scholarship committee had a wonderful time putting on our Game Day fundraiser last November. It was fun, we enjoyed getting to have a chance to get together to play and the committee raised $1,000 for Scholarship. Guess what? We are going to have a Second Annual Game Day next November.

In the planning process, however, we learned that many people either did not play games very often and/or did not know how to play the featured games. The committee decided to start a new interest group for the branch to encourage more members to participate in Game Day.

Six members joined me at my home for a meeting to organize and plan how to move forward with the group. We also enjoyed playing Mexican Train for several hours on a Friday afternoon. Some were just learning the game and before we wrapped up the afternoon, they had learned the basics of how to play. Our next gathering will be on the second Friday afternoon of the month, March 8, from 1:30-4 pm, at Mary Leigh's home. This group is open to anyone, beginner or expert, who would like to play. Our goal is to have an excuse to get together, learn a new game or two and have fun.

We are also planning an evening group as several members would like to include spouses as well. Let me know if that is of interest to you.

IN MEMORIAM ~ PAT KESSLER

OML was recently notified of the passing of Pat Kessler on November 19, 2018. Pat, a longtime AAUW member, was active in our branch for many years before moving to Auburn in the early 2000s. She was rewarded for her many accomplishments and involvement by being named Distinguished Woman in 2000. A Celebration of Life will be held on April 13. For more information, please contact Ellie Kessler Vierra at 916-591-8771.

DISTINGUISHED WOMAN ~ 2019

Thank you for the many nominations from our members nominating our 2019 AAUW-OML Distinguished Woman. Lynda Leonard, Bonnie Fend, Marie Bonilla, Linda Bochte and I are busy reviewing the nominations made by many of our OML members. All the nominations are outstanding and deserving of the honor.

Be certain to circle your calendar for March 19 at 9:30 am. Our BIG announcement will be made at the general meeting. Be sure to attend!

Maryellen Judson
Distinguished Woman 2018

NOMINATING COMMITTEE

This year's Nominating Committee consisted of Peggy Cabaniss, Bonnie Gallogly and Pat Lopker. Our goal was to develop a slate of officers for the branch for the coming year 2019-20. We met several times during February and worked to include new members as well as former members who had not served recently on the board. We were grateful that many current board members were willing to serve another term. In many cases, the board position is being filled by a member willing to chair a committee of additional members.

We would like to reach out and have as many women involved as possible. If you would like to help in any capacity with these positions, please contact any of us on the nominating committee and we will forward your name to the proper person.

PUBLIC POLICY UPDATE

Last month we highlighted AAUW's goals related to Women's Economic Security. This month we are providing an update on AAUW's progress towards those goals.

The Paycheck Fairness Act was introduced in the 116th Congress on January 30, earning it a coveted spot in the first ten bills introduced. The bill would take meaningful steps to update and strengthen the Equal Pay Act of 1963 to help close the gap by giving women new tools to use. It was introduced amid a strong showing of support with 46 original supporters in the Senate and a bipartisan group of 240 in the House. AAUW provided representatives with updated statistics of the wage gap in their congressional districts.

The Family and Medical Insurance Leave (FAMILY) Act was introduced to Congress on February 12. It would establish a national self-funding paid family and medical insurance program that would provide workers with up to 12 weeks of partial income replacement when they take time off for serious health conditions or for care-giving purposes. The program would be funded by small employee and employer payroll contributions, building on the success of several state and paid family and medical leave programs. AAUW is committed to advocating for flexible workplace policies to address the family responsibilities of employees.

A second federal legislative priority for AAUW is Equal Access to Education. Barriers to equity in education still exist, particularly for women and under-represented populations. Despite Title IX protections, the gender divide in career and technical education programs remains wide, with women still concentrated in areas leading to lower-wage occupations. And women hold nearly two-thirds of the outstanding student debt in the US – crippling their educational advancement and economic security. To ensure equal access to education Congress must:

Defend and Strengthen Title IX: Recent attacks on Title IX jeopardize the right of all students to learn in an environment free from discrimination. AAUW opposes any actions that would roll back the protections afforded through Title IX, including the recent proposed rule from the Department of Education.

Eliminate Disparities in School Discipline: Children of color and children with disabilities are suspended and expelled from school at disproportionate rates. AAUW urges Congress to exercise its oversight authority to monitor enforcement of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and other laws ensuring civil rights in education, and to speak out in opposition to changes to the critical school discipline guidance.

Support the Dream Act and Take Action to Protect Immigrant Youth: The status of more than 800,000 Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) recipients remains in jeopardy. AAUW urges Congress to bring legislation to the floor that would grant DACA recipients and immigrant youth a pathway to citizenship, an ability to access higher education, and the opportunity to work toward economic stability.
