MORAGA FOR MONARCHS

with guest speaker,
Bobby Preston

Bobbie Preston will talk about the catastrophic decline in Monarch butterflies and the Moraga Garden Club's project, Moraga for Monarchs, which involves installing a Monarch Habitat and Demonstration Garden at Moraga's Rancho Laguna Park.

California's monarch butterflies are vanishing

Did you know, there has been over 99 percent decrease in monarch butterfly population in California since the 1980s. Moraga is part of the monarchs' critical coastal range; Rancho Laguna Park is eight miles from an established monarch overwintering site at Lake Merritt. Citizens of Lamorinda can support a chance for recovery by providing needed nectar and larvae host habitat for the few surviving monarchs migrating back from overwintering sites this spring and beyond. Conservation work done now can still make a difference; work done will also help other native pollinators experiencing critical declines.

Moraga Garden Club has established the Moraga for Monarchs project. Our goal is to help repopulate monarchs throughout Lamorinda. We are collaborating with local entities to deliver cohesive, sustainable support. Our goal is three-fold:

- Educate our citizens to encourage appropriate monarch assistance,
- Establish attractive public monarch habitats, and
- Provide plants to support fire-safe, monarch-friendly private landscaping.

To this end, a monarch habitat is being installed at Rancho Laguna Park in Moraga; we hope to have the garden fully planted by the end of May 2021. We are selling native milkweed to the public for their home gardens and providing it to local school gardens.

Bobbie is a retired radiologist living in Moraga since 1984. She was the COO of No One Left Behind (a refugee settlement group), board member of Hospice of the East Bay, founding president of Mt. Diablo Habitat for Humanity, Moraga Citizen of the Year in 2017 and an enthusiastic gardener and active member of Moraga Gardens Farm and Moraga Garden Club.

... PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

One and Done

On May 17, 1988, Fay Schoenberger was the installing officer for the incoming OML officers for the 1988-89 year. She noted that the 10 incoming officers had been selected by their peers out of the 440 branch members. Fast forward to today and we are constantly doing more with only 25 percent of the former membership. As our membership decreases and ages, we are finding it increasingly difficult to find members willing to assume a leadership role.

It is possible that if the college degree requirement for membership is eliminated, we may potentially be able to recruit new members such as parents whose daughters attend Tech Trek, the STEM Conference or STEM Zoom webinars. We might also be able to reach out to the community for new members. As the incoming publicity chair I hope to make AAUW-OML more visible, but attracting new members is not something we can count on.

Congratulations and thank you to Jan Cushman for agreeing to be president next year and Peggy Cabiness to be president elect. However, we don't have anyone who has agreed to take over as Tech Trek coordinator for Jan. She shouldn't be expected to carry two board positions in the same year!

I have a theory that some people may not be willing to volunteer for a leadership role because they are afraid that once they accept a job, they will be stuck doing it for two or three years. I would like to urge all of our members to be the support we need to keep the organization alive by sharing responsibility for keeping it running. Volunteer to head a committee for just one year. One and done. If we share the load, the burden will be less on all of us, and OML can continue strong, meeting our community goals and objectives. Let me know what you think.

This will be my final president's message. I would like to thank my expert co-president, Marielle, and everyone on the board during this very unusual year for all your hard work. The accomplishments by the amazing STEM committee putting on a one day Zoom STEM Conference for middle-school girls and the Zoom webinar series Girls4Stem were awe inspiring. Our Zoom programming each and every month probably exceeded the programming by any other branch. While some branches elected not to participate in Zoom Tech Trek this year, we had an amazing 30 applications and are sending 17 girls. We are granting more scholarships than ever to high school girls and Saint Mary's College Students. We handed out workbooks to Burckhalter children in distance education. We established a new priority for Diversity, Equity and Inclusion, to help educate us all. I am proud to be a member.

Alison MacKenzie, Co-President

YOUR VOTE COUNTS!

AAUW National is holding an online vote that will determine, among several items, the future eligibility of its membership, which they are hoping to open to all women (and men) regardless of their advanced degrees. You can take part in this vote. Look for an email that was sent to you on April 7 from Shannon Wolfe, AAUW memberinfo@email.aauw.org. Voting closes at 5 pm ET on Monday, May 17, 2021.

BOARD MEETING
April 13, 2021

Great interest was anticipated for the membership meetings. Sunday, April 18, awards will be given to Tech Trek, to girls from the middle schools (17), six scholarships for senior high school young women, and 10 women from Saint Mary's College to attend the NC-CWSL leadership conference.

A second membership meeting will be Tuesday, April 20. An important National AAUW vote is taking place this month. A panel discussion will clarify many of our questions. It is important to vote.

California AAUW offered an informative Lobby Day for our members and Denise Burian, Constance Whitting and Laura Monin joined with our representatives in the discussion of legislative bills being presented in Sacramento.

Our new priority, DEI/BLM has appointed Denise Burian to be its representative on the Board.

FOCUS ON ... OUR YOUNG STUDENT AWARDEES

Scholarship Committee Report

Our branch shared a “full circle moment” with our speaker, Cara Wolfe during our April awards program. Middle school students from this year’s Tech Trek camp, high school and college scholarship awardees and our members listened to Cara who had attended all of our branch programs. By sharing her experiences, Cara offered helpful information and inspired a very attentive audience. She wrote to me afterwards, “It was an absolute honor to come back and speak. It was so nice seeing so many familiar faces in attendance. I can’t say thank you enough for everyone’s support over the years.”

Because of the efforts of our committee and donations from our branch members, we were able to offer more scholarships this year. Thank you! This is a good time to thank members of the scholarship committee who raised funds, interviewed students and gave support this year when we were constantly adjusting to new procedures. They were: Gail Burnett, Jill Eberhard, Bonnie Fend, Maryellen Judson, Wendy Kramer, Cayo Marschner, Mary Ann McLeod, Laura Monin, Rachel Riddle, Carol Heppenstall, Joan Foster, Jill Fernald and Laura Wittenberg.

We are thrilled to assist nine students with scholarship funds and make it possible for 10 students to attend AAUW’s National Conference for College Student Women Leaders (NCCSWL). Here are the names of our 2021 scholarship awardees from Acalanes, Campolindo and Miramonte High Schools along with members of the junior class High Potential Program at Saint Mary’s College.

Lafayette –Acalanes

- Emilia Gutman - $2,000 Award
- Sophie Krayna - $1,000 Award

Orinda – Miramonte

- Chaya Tong - $2,000 Award
- A student who wishes to be unnamed – $1,000 Award

Moraga - Campolindo

- Jacqueline Artiaga - $2,000 Award
- Helen Kaidantzis - $1,000 Award

Saint Mary’s College

- Daniela Catubig - $1,000 Award
- Maleena Guido - $1,000 Award
- Maya Patel - $1,000 Award

National Conference for College Women Student Leaders Attendees

- Daniele Catubig,
- Maleena Guido,
- Maya Patel,
- Eisha Ahmadi,
- Anahi Torres,
- Andrea Diaz-Garcia,
- Lizette, Navarro,
- Emma Duarte,
- Alondra Mendoza,
- Samantha Nieves

These NCCSWL awards are based on community engagement and leadership. Two themes appeared when discussing the activities of these young women: care for the environment and seeking equity in their community.

Two of the young women started out with small ecology projects such as the Acalanes Environmental Club and the Saint Mary’s legacy garden, but they expanded their knowledge and found their voice to influence their schools to create sustainable programs and allow students to express their concerns in the planning of the food service.

Many of our awardees were interested in learning about other cultures and/or sharing their culture for different groups in their community. These students had become aware of inequities in our community and used their interests to make safe places for fellow students, to help others learn about a different culture and work to change the school and community environment. It may have been sharing their own culture, working in a theatre company, volunteering in a soup kitchen, teaching underserved preschoolers or helping register voters but each showed incredible empathy and dedication to her project.

Here are some thoughtful words from Saint Mary’s student, Maya Patel. They are the perfect message to our OML members.

“Sometimes it is hard to be heard, let alone seen. These wonderful people made me feel as if I was not only heard but seen making change on the Saint Mary’s campus. Thank you so much.”

We will highlight individual girls in future Triad articles.

Mary Ann McLeod, Scholarship Co-Chair

17 Lamorinda Eighth Grade Girls Will Attend Virtual Tech Trek This Summer!!

At the April 18 meeting, we celebrated the girls who were selected in 2020 and 2021 to attend virtual Tech Trek camp. Tech Trek honored the seven girls who were selected last year but could not attend camp since the Stanford Camp Curry was canceled. They were invited to attend virtual camp this year and all but one accepted, so we invited the alternate and she is eager to attend.

This year, there were 30 nominations from the teachers at our Lamorinda intermediate schools and our selection was narrowed to just 10 girls, all of whom accepted our invitation to attend camp.

Lafayette – Stanley Middle School

- 2020: Camille Bradley, Beatrice Dean, Helena Linnen
- 2021: Arianna Bustamente, Isabelle Culinco, Abigail Hui

Moraga – Joaquin Moraga Intermediate School

- 2020: Sofia Gomes, Giorgia Stankus, Vivian Tolajian
- 2021: Maryam Kermani, Audrey Spears, Rebecca Tanner

Orinda – Orinda Intermediate School

- 2020: Deya Murthy, Emma Wong
- 2021: Sophia Bitton, Claire Casado, Christophe Davis, Kodie Zundel

These 17 girls bring the total number of girls our branch has sponsored to Tech Trek to 111 girls since 1998. That is truly awesome number, made possible with your support through the years!

Although the girls will not be on campus, they will have a unique opportunity to participate in the hands-on activities in the morning and afternoon STEM workshops, hear from inspirational women working in STEM, and interact with each other in breakout rooms. They will learn the video software Flipgrid and will share their creations on Friday. And there will be optional evening sessions as well. We are eager to see their creations at the end of the summer! Hopefully we can plan an in-person celebration.

I am volunteering as a coach for the afternoon workshops for a week in July, so this should be a very interesting and entertaining experience. I'll let you know how it goes!

Thank you to our very generous donors who have made our scholarships possible and also the AAUW members who reviewed the applications and interviewed the girls this year on Zoom and made the selections – not an easy task. Our support for these outstanding and talented girls who are passionate about STEM would not be possible without your support.

MEMBERS CORNER • MEET OUR MEMBERS
Stacia Cragholm
Member Since 2011
Part Two

Members Corner continues the synergy story of one person's idea of building a local STEM conference, so all interested girls could attend. See Part One in the April Triad.

Tell us about Miracle Number Three, the arrival of Heidi Mayer as a new OML member willing to become Co-Chair for the conference.

Heidi Mayer was a gift. She has incredible professional experience building IT systems for big banks. Our fledgling idea of building a STEM conference was like cotton candy for Heidi. She brought her tech and organizational skills, ideas, and amazing leadership. As Co-Chair, Heidi was our project manager – the one who coordinated all our efforts, who kept us organized and informed. She established a timeline we still use and adapt as needed today. I am forever indebted for her IT skills and her monitoring the online registrations at EYH.

Your vision was to create a local STEM event modeled after Tech Trek camp. How were you going to fund it?

Tech Trek Chair, Jan Cushman, and her team (Gail Chesler, Sandy Fox-Sohner, Christine Lasczc-Davis, Heidi Mayer, Christine Walwyn, Laura Wittenberg, and I) prepared a professional application for a $5,000 Tech Savvy grant from the Association. We were devastated when we were turned down. I knew about Expanding Your Horizons (EYH) from my years teaching. When I pursued help from EYH, I reached their director on the very day she was sending their list of $5,000 grant requests to Chevron. Miracle #4: She told me that day we would get our funding. Saint Mary's College, EYH, and Chevron have supported our conference every year; Lamorinda Sunrise Rotary also became an important sponsor.

How did you find workshop leaders?

Christine Walwyn connected with leaders at Lawrence Livermore Lab and Holy Names University. They suggested presenters. Christine and Sara Lautenbach took responsibility for the workshops. At the same time, Heidi and others kept networking, helping find workshop presenters. Christine and Heidi's years of building our cadre of workshop presenters was fundamental to our conference success.

Tell us about the workshop presenters.

We have a broad spectrum of volunteer scientists, engineers, techies, forensic investigators and unique presenters who lead special workshops. Member Sheila Apte leads a workshop on building bridges. Moraga resident, Carla Filippone does a workshop on caring for honeybees. Women FBI agents lead a forensic science investigation of a crime scene. Techies teach girls to disassemble and rebuild a computer CPU. Most of our presenters return with their expertise every year.

Tell us about the Ambassadors program.

We adapted successful concepts Valarie Burgess and Laura Wittenberg developed in Sister-to-Sister years ago. High school girls learned leadership skills as they helped plan S2S Summits. We adapted that concept with our Ambassadors program. There is a lot to tell about our dedicated team of high school leaders who help plan the conference. I cannot say enough about them. And we found a way to bring past Tech Trek campers into the mix, as budding leaders for their years in high school. Through the Ambassadors program, we keep them connected to AAUW.

Cara Wolfe and her sister, Lynn Wolfe were both selected to attend Tech Trek in middle school; both later became dedicated Ambassadors.

We look forward to hearing more in Part Three in the June Triad.

Curator's Note: Stacia Cragholm was founding Co-Chair of the STEM Workshops Conference, 2016–2020. About 800 local girls have attended five STEM conferences on campus and online.

If you made a donation in the 2020 calendar year to AAUW Fund and do not see your name on the list, please accept our apologies. Because some of you are now donating online this often bypasses our treasurer and VP Fund co-chairs. We will try to correct any errors. A Special Note from Kimberley Churches

Dear AAUW Orinda-Moraga-Lafayette
leaders and members:

When I emailed my personal thanks to you in March, AAUW had not yet received your most recent branch gifts in loving memory of both Pat Beckner and Jan Coe.

My colleagues at AAUW National and I are so grateful for your generosity. I’m writing to express my thanks again to all your members who chose to use the occasion of these very real and painful losses as an opportunity to support the cause of equity for women and girls that binds you to them and all of us to each other. We are so sorry for the losses you’ve suffered in recent months, yet we know the vibrant and enduring friendships in AAUW will help you through these difficult times.

Your strong support means the world to me and to all of us at AAUW National. We simply couldn’t accomplish our mission-critical work without you. Thank you!

Most sincerely,
Kim Churches

DEI – BLM ALLIES GROUP
Wednesday, May 12 and 26
via Zoom • 10 am

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion are popular buzzwords right now, but they are more than words. They must be followed up with actions.

AAUW seeks to promote an equitable, sustainable, and inclusive membership reflective of today's world. Diversity means the characteristics that make us as individuals unique. Inclusion refers to behaviors and actions to ensure everyone is included in our work towards equity.

To this end, AAUW National (and California) updated the public policy objectives; created a DEI toolkit for branches to use as a resource for understanding key terms and concepts; proposed we eliminate the college requirement for membership in order to be inclusive and non-discriminatory (don't forget to vote); and asked each branch to designate a DEI Officer.

The OML DEI Committee is meeting twice a month to discuss a relevant book. We are reading as a group – currently "Caste" by Isabel Wilkerson, and also discuss other related news items. Mostly, we try to increase our own awareness of our actions, biases, and steps we can take to create a more equitable and just community. All OML members are welcome to join the group.
